Client and Broker Relations

Working closely with clients and their advisors across our complete business is key to our strategy. Our Client and Broker Relations team coordinates the development of lasting and open tripartite relationships with clients and brokers, based on regular dialogue, technical understanding and strict adherence to the highest standards of service. Liaising closely with Claims, Underwriting and Operations staff, our Broker Development Managers and Key Account Managers continuously work with clients and brokers to identify their needs. This helps us to devise and deliver solutions that truly fit these needs, thereby providing a genuinely differentiated service to ensure long-term relationships with Allianz.
